LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

For lamps and fixtures, see the new stock at J. W. Houghton's.

The person that carried that umbrella from the Cong. Church would favor the owner by bringing it back.

Go and see the new goods, too numerous to mention, at Houghton's drug and book store.

In getting ready for winter, do not forget to renew your subscription to the ENTERPRISE.

Compressed yeast, same as used in Vienna bread, at W. W. Harvey's, 4 St.

The home paper is the one you can least afford to spare. Send in your subscriptions and renewals.

For stationery, school books, and all school supplies, go to Houghton's drug and book store.

Paper in quarter ream packages and in smaller quantities cheaper than ever before known, at Houghton's.

Fifty-two of our citizens went to Cleveland last Friday to attend the services at the Tabernacle, and more went yesterday.

Large globes, very useful for the study of geography, and for learning the location and relative position of places, can be had at Houghton's store.

Mr. Samuel Warner brought a grade Durham to town last week which weighed 1120 pounds, after 17 months' carrying. Said to be a very superior animal.

For Sale or Rent.—House and lot on Hale Street. House contains seven rooms. Good cellar, etc. Enquire of D. A. Willard, at W. R. Santley & Co.'s office.

The funeral of Wesley Baites, who died Friday morning, was held at his late home Sunday afternoon, at 1 p. m., attended by his pastor, Rev. N. S. Albright.

Miss M. A. Clark makes nice fitting cloaks and dolmans, as well as dresses. Call at Mrs. A. H. Palmer's millinery rooms, and leave your orders. Nice fit guaranteed or goods paid for.

Now is the time to get your Fall and winter hats and bonnets, and Mrs. A. H. Palmer has them in all styles, both straw and felt, and all goods usually found in a millinery store. 4 St.

We were shown to-day by Mr. G. W. Crozier & Co., some very fine switzer cheese bought by Mr. Will Crozier for the Southern German trade. They will weigh about 100 pounds, and are finest of their kind.

We ask the attention of our readers this week to the following new advertisement. Wooster & Adams, druggists and dealers in fancy goods, notions, etc. New store. New goods, and every thing in N. 1 order. Keep watch of their space each week.

Three and all the children of Mr. Holcomb, formerly of Wellington, died recently of diphtheria in Cleveland, the same week. Our devil says this item will be read with interest, because everybody will be pleased to know they have gone where they cannot read anything more.

In the coroner's inquest in the Merriam case at LaGrange, the wife of deceased was cleared of the foul suspicion against her, and it was quite clearly proved that Mr. Merriam's death was caused by an overdose of morphine administered by his own hand, either intentionally or accidentally.

A large market basket full of cut tobacco roses seems a very extravagant indulgence in this time of smelly commodities, but the agent of Storrs & Harrison, whose advertisement appears in the ENTERPRISE this week, was dividing that quantity around Saturday afternoon, and left a bouquet for the editors that will disguise even the perfumes of a drug store for days to come.

The inducements offered by the Cleveland Herald should be considered when you are looking for a first-class paper. It never was so ably edited, since we have been acquainted with it, and to our minds its editorial writing is fully up to the N. Y. weeklies. It is sound in its politics and its literary character is unsurpassed. Our readers will place a higher estimate on this notice when we tell them that we were neither asked nor paid for it.

The New London Record has a correspondent who has raised the Amber sugar cane from one-half acre to one acre, and has produced a crop of 100 bushels of sugar, worth at least 50 cents a gallon; 35 bushels of seed heads good for chicken feed; a quantity of leaves for fodder, and the cane after pressing can be used for same. He thinks the crop worth $130 an acre, says it matures early, is easy to raise, will grow on any good corn ground and no insects destroy it.

Mrs. A. H. Palmer brought to our office a very fine specimen of the large variety of the passion flower, also leaf and bud, the latter opening in a day or two into a perfect flower. Mrs. E. O. Foote has a vine which bore a large number of blossoms last year, and we may yet learn that this rare exotic is already quite common among the cherished plants of our Wellington ladies. We began a few weeks ago to tell the legend connected with the vine, but it did not get into print. The ancient tradition says that on the night of Good Friday, after our Savior's body was taken from the cross, that where his blood was shed a vine sprang up and blossomed, which upon being examined proved to contain in its leaves and flowers all the principal features of the crucifixion. The pistil in the center with outstretched arms was a miniature of the cross itself; the five stamens the nails, spear and hammer; the ten points the ten faithful disciples who stood around the cross; the little upright fringe round the bottom of the pistil, sometimes red or purple in color, the crown of thorns with blood upon it; the fringe or rays, the halo of glory; the three lobed leaf, the three Marys, united in heart in their love for the Savior; the tendrils, those faithful of the multitude who clung to the vine to the last, and the calyx with its three sepals supporting the flower, the Trinity. This supposed resemblance is of course imaginary, but it invests the plant with peculiar interest and is well remembering to keep up the tradition.

Baldwin, Laundon & Co.

What to buy and where to buy it at this season of the year is a question in every household. Knowing that prudent people consult their newspapers before spending their money, we give our readers the benefit of observations and inquiries in a look through the oldest

DRY GOODS HOUSE

In this vicinity, that of Baldwin, Laundon & Co.

Beginning in the department of ladies ready-made cloaks, we were shown garments ranging in price from $2 to those of rich and heavy material with elegant trimmings of silk, costly fringe and passementerie, the medium grades being also very desirable. In shows they have for winter, the heavy, reversible, the Paisley and the soft all-wool blanket shawl, single and double.

On the shelves are a full stock of diagonals, and good beaver cloackings from $1.25 upwards. In cloths and cassimers for gentlemen's suits, they have a large supply. We saw excellent water-proof goods, ranging from 50 cts. to $1.25 a yard; woollen blankets, all grades, merino underwear from 25 cts. upward, all-wool and Shaker flannel from 15 cts. a yardward. Cotton flannels from 6 1/2 to 20 cts. Ticks and sheetings in quantities, and in tickings a specialty, at one shilling. Sheetings a yard wide, from 5 1/2 to 9 cts. Bleached cottons, good quality, from 10 to 15 cts. Shirtings at old prices, striped and plaid, from 10 to 15 cts., and extra chevrons from 10 to 15 cts. In table linens they have a line of Turkey red, from 50 cts. to $1.00 a yard, and handsome Turkish toweling, napkins, tidies and doilies in choice patterns.

All linen crapes are offered for 6 1/2 to 20 cts. per yard; all-linen damask towels with fringe and border at 20 cts. each; and a specialty in towels similarly finished are 8 1/2 cts. Napkins from 75 cts. to $5.00 a dozen. Young house-keepers may now get a and others replenish their stores for a sum that a few years ago would not have sufficed for a beginning. In this connection should be mentioned Ingrain carpets in quantities from 25 to 30 cts., and a nice line of old cloths from 25 cts. to $1.25.

Among the dress goods is a large stock of prints of the best brands which are selling at 8 1/2 cts.; and choice cambrics from 8 to 12 1/2 cts.; ginghams in color and quality, suitable for aprons and children's wear are 8 cts., and the dark fancy Amoskeag 1 shilling. In cheap dress goods they have broadcases, bourrettes, etc., at 9 cts., poplin alpacaes at 1 shilling, which formerly sold at 15 and 18 cts. The woolen goods in stock are of good grey and dark neutral tints, are 25 cts. a yard; Tycoon, the figured goods sold for wrappers and dressing gowns, is now reduced to 20 cts. They show a good stock of Jamestown alpacaes, and a few pieces are yet left of the imitation crape-morette in very desirable mode colors, which though sold at 25 cts., looks well enough to cost twice that. Cashmeres in fashionable dark tints range from 45 cts. to $1.50. Handsome broadcases and other popular dress goods, also Scotch plaids are shown at 20 cts. and upward. Pongees—plain, brocade and striped; and at 45 cts. can be bought a new striped dress goods cotton and silk warp, and all-wool filling, that is very handsome, and the more expensive Moulton cloths may be found in their stock.

Black silks, broadcases in colors, and fancy dress silks are shown in good variety; and for trimmings and combings, cloths and silks, velvet and French broadcases; while among the fancy goods, and notions may be found fringes, passementeries, gimps, buttons, ornaments and a full case of spool silk and twist at greatly reduced prices. A of ladies and childrens gloves which formerly sold at from two to three shillings a pair, will be closed out at ten cents a pair, and in the line of hosiery for misses, the dark fancy styles at one shilling a pair, were a marvel of cheapness for the quality. Hand-made knit garments, as jackets, hoods, scarfs, leggings and mittens are attractively all-played, and good variety of materials for knitting is also in the stock. The silk and linen handkerchiefs are pretty and cheap, the lowest priced being a linen at 5 cts.

A full case of ribbons in all the new styles; fancy lace combs from one shilling to half a dollar, rubbings, collars and cuffs, lace and embroidery, silk bows and ties are among their fancy goods. The attention of the ladies is called to the different makes of corsets, ranging in price from 50 cents to $1.50. In boots and shoes we will mention a good looking article of ladies side-laced shoes at $1.25, infants shoes as low as 25 cents, a child's shoe at 50 cents, a ladies' serge gaiter at 85 cents, Congress at $1.00, and French kid in all sizes, boys leather boots from $2.00 upward, and men's wear from $2.50 to $3.00.

We have said nothing of the grocery, crockery and hardware departments, but our readers will see that to attempt to enumerate the extent of goods carried in stock by this old firm would take more space than we can give to one subject, and we can only advise the public to go and see for themselves.
